NL - Introductie

2000

Aan het begin van het millennium had Astrid enkele teksten met een onderlinge samenhang geschreven. Zowel die samenhang als de onderliggende verscheidenheid heb ik in muziek proberen te vangen en na 6 jaar toneelmuziek zou dit het perfecte vervolg in mijn idee van muzikale vormgeving zijn. Onder de naam Walls werden Astrids songteksten en mijn composities gebundeld, waarna we op zoek gingen naar de juiste performers.

We wisten precies wat we zochten: een female fronted vocaliste en vier gedegen muzikanten op drums, bas, gitaar en toetsen. In 2002 hielden we audities en in 2003 waren we een heel eind op weg om het idee in een daadwerkelijk product om te zetten. De naam van het project hadden we ondertussen gewijzigd naar In Search Of Genius, een titel die de tekstuele lading en samenhang veel beter dekt. Helaas kregen we een definitieve bezetting uiteindelijk toch niet rond en het concept belandde op de plank van Twoomusic, de samenwerking tussen Astrid en mij.

Inmiddels onder de naam Gashunters als 'one man studio project' actief, werd mijn debuut albumtrilogie gelanceerd. In de tussentijd speelde In Search Of Genius regelmatig door mijn hoofd en besloot ik om alle ISOG songs opnieuw te arrangeren en her en der van nieuwe muziek te voorzien. Van drums en bas tot alle keys en eenvoudige gitaarpartijen. Het basismateriaal was daarmee grotendeels compleet, maar ik miste de ultieme afwerking: alle lead en backing vocals en op diverse songs (stevig) gitaarwerk.

De sound van gitaarvirtuoos Dani Rogosic (ook uit Helmond) paste in mijn oren perfect bij het ISOG concept. Een 6-tal nummers van het album is door Dani van uitgebreide gitaarpartijen voorzien. Het eindresultaat betekent een substantiële featuring rol voor Dani. Diverse pogingen om tot een ideale invulling van de zangpartijen te komen mislukten en zodoende kwam ISOG toch weer op de plank te liggen.

In totaal bracht Gashunters tussen 2013 en 2019 zeven albums uit. Een speciale vermelding verdient nummer 5 uit 2016: het album PIGH, met een sound die vooral wordt bepaald door gitaarbijdragen van Dani. Met wat fantasie kun je dit album een prelude op ISOG noemen ...

Eind 2018 voelde ik dat In Search Of Genius het eerstvolgende Gashunters station moest worden. Het moest er toch een keer van komen! Joycez, originele zangeres van het project uit 2001, bleek graag te willen meewerken en zo werden in de zomer van 2019 de songs van nieuwe lead en backing vocals voorzien. Hiermee waren alle ingrediënten aanwezig en het aftellen kon beginnen. De dagen werden snel korter toen de eindmix en mastering ter hand werden genomen.

Januari 2020

Tijd voor de officiële release! De draagtijd was met 20 jaar weliswaar lang, maar er is dan ook een volwassen product geboren. In Search Of Genius kan officieel worden bijgeschreven in de Gashunters discografie en wordt definitief in de muzikale cloud vereeuwigd.

Ten slotte wil ik dankzeggen richting Joycez, Dani en Astrid. Gezamenlijk hebben we een boeiend muziekalbum afgeleverd. Als Gashunters hanteer ik vaak een motto met bijbehorende hashtag. Het geldt zowel voor het beluisteren van In Search Of Genius als de productie en release van nieuw materiaal:

NL - Songteksten

De ISOG songteksten handelen veelal over doorgewone zaken waar veel mensen in hun leven op enig moment mee te maken krijgen. Simpelweg omdat ze mensen zijn, wezens die zich gedurende hun hele leven ontwikkelen en dingen meemaken. Sommige teksten gaan over onderwerpen waar, gelukkig maar, lang niet iedereen of in dezelfde mate ervaring mee heeft.

Je zou soms willen terugkeren naar het kind of de tiener of jongvolwassene van destijds, terugkeren naar hoe je lang geleden was. Op andere momenten zou je willen dat je geen verleden, geen herinneringen had.

Die kinderlijke spontaniteit die omslaat in soms iets te veel remming en het opwerpen van barrières. Die heerlijke jeugdige naïviteit die jaren later nogal eens wordt overwoekerd door een tikje teveel aan realisme of zelfs cynisme.

Terugkeren kan niet, hoeft ook niet, want zou zinloos zijn. Je bent wie je bent niet alleen door de aard waarmee je wordt geboren, maar ook door en in combinatie met wat je in je leven meemaakt. Zwart zou niet bestaan zonder wit. Als een rivier niet zou stromen zou het geen rivier zijn maar een meer of een plas. Een heuvel of een berg is alleen een heuvel of een berg inderdaad.

Als je je dat realiseert, kun je misschien 's wat minder hard op de rem trappen en de deur 's wat vaker openen. Zwelgen kan soms een genot zijn, maar het regent in het echte leven toch ook niet altijd, en voelen die zonnestrallen niet extra fijn op je huid na een hoosbui? Idealen hoeven geen vroege dood te sterven, als het zus niet lukt, probeer 't dan zo. Wees niet bang om te falen, om te haperen, om angst te hebben. Wees niet bang om vriendschappen en relaties aan te gaan en te verliezen. En ja, ook mensen zelf hebben niet het eeuwige leven. Het is zoals het is.

Vind de Genius in jezelf.

EN - Introduction

2000

At the beginning of this millennium, Astrid had written several lyrics with in fact a coherent theme. I tried to capture this coherence as well as the underlying diversity in music and after 6 years of theatre music this would be the perfect continuation in my idea of musical design. We joined our forces, called the project Walls and started our search for the right performers.

We knew exactly what we were looking for: a female frontend vocalist and four solid musicians on drums, bass, guitar and keys. We held auditions in 2002 and in 2003 we were well on the way turning the idea into an actual product. In the meantime we had changed the name of the project to In Search Of Genius, a title that fits the cohesion much better. Unfortunately we couldn't get a definitive line-up and the concept ended on the shelf of Twoomusic, the collaboration between Astrid and me.

Meanwhile active by the artist name Gashunters, a one man studio project, my debut album trilogy was released. In Search Of Genius played through my mind once again and I decided to re-arrange all the songs and provide them with new music here and there, from drums and bass to keys and simple guitar lines. So, the basic material was now pretty much complete, but I still missed the ultimate finish: all lead and backing vocals and some – solid - guitar parts on various songs.

The sound of guitar virtuoso Dani Rogosic (also from Helmond) suited the ISOG concept perfectly. He provided extensive guitar parts on 6 songs from the final album. The end result is a substantial featuring role for Dani. Various attempts to come to an ideal interpretation of the vocal parts failed and ISOG thus was put on the shelf again.

Gashunters released seven albums between 2013 and 2019. Number 5 from 2016 deserves special mention: the album PIGH, with a sound that is mainly determined by guitar contributions from Dani. You only need little imagination to call this album a prelude to ISOG ...

At the end of 2018 I felt that In Search Of Genius should be the next Gashunters station. Joycez, original singer in the 2001 project, turned out to be eager to cooperate and thus in the summer of 2019 her lead and backing vocals were recorded. All recordings done, the final countdown could now be started. Days were getting shorter quickly while the final mix and mastering were in progress.

January 2020

The official release is a fact! Admittedly the gestation period lasted 20 years, but then again an adult product is born instantaneous. In Search Of Genius is now officially part of the Gashunters discography and immortalized in the musical cloud.

I thank Joycez, Dani en Astrid for their contributions. Together we have concluded a captivating music album. Gashunters uses a regularly recurring philosophy and corresponding hashtag which is valid for listening to In Search Of Genius as well as for the production and release of new material:

EN - Lyrics

Themes of the ISOG lyrics are ordinary things that many people have to deal with at some point in their lives, simply because they are people, beings that develop and experience things throughout their lives. Some words deal with topics that, fortunately, not everyone has to experience or at least not to the same extent.

You might want to travel back in time to be again the child or teen or young adult you once were. At other times you wish you had no past, no memories.

That childish spontaneity sometimes turns into a little too much inhibition behaviour and putting up obstacles. And over the years that delightful youthful naivety gets overgrown by a bit too much realism or even cynicism.

Time travel is still not possible, but hey, it's not even necessary, it would be pointless, you'd end up in an endless paradox. You are who you are at this moment not only because of your nature, all your experiences up until today count as well. Black can only exist because of white. If a river did not flow, it would not be a river at all, but a standing lake or pool. A hill or a mountain is only a hill or a mountain indeed.

If you realize all that, you might be able to take a step forwards, try another turn, say hello to a new day. Yes, sometimes it's a pleasure to wallow in self-pity, but you know what, in real life rainy clouds always drift away and don't you remember the moments rays of sunshine sweetly tickled your skin after a shower?

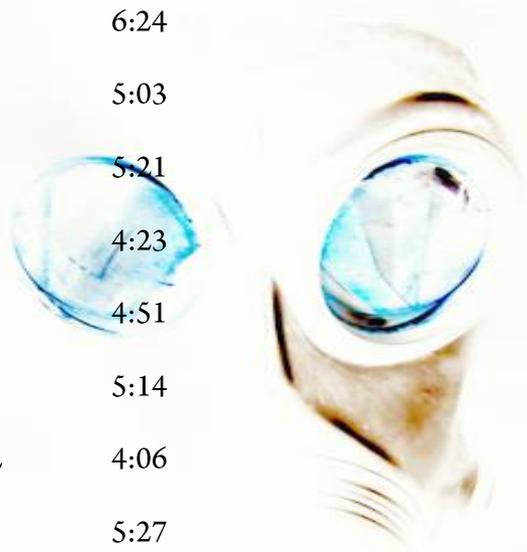

Ideals don't have to die early, if things don't work out this way, try it another way. Don't be afraid of failure, faltering, or fear. Don't be afraid to make and to lose friends, step into relationships without knowing how they will develop. And yes, like all beings people do not have eternal life. It is what it is.

Find your Genius.

Building Walls

Lyrics: Astrid Rhemrev / Music: Hans Geurts / Lead vocals: Joycez

Instruments: Hans Geurts / Additional and lead guitars: Dani Rogosic

Can't say the words that really tell you
What I feel deep inside
As if this silence keeps me from falling
So I hide
From the soul that is my very own, from the feelings that have grown
From the love I feel for you, cause I can't believe this is really true

Can't stop the tears I've cried before,
Deep blue oceans are my world
The water keeps on running and running
I'm so hurt
Cause I found something so right
But I cannot see the light
At night I'm feeling all alone
Makes my heart turn into stone

And that's when I'm desperate, my heart is in pain
So I keep building walls, over and over again
Walls only I can see through
I'm sorry I didn't build a window for you

I hope your own wall isn't too high
I hope we'll grow wings and fly

Bare game

Lyrics: Astrid Rhemrev / Music & All instruments: Hans Geurts / Lead vocals: Joycez

I'm so vulnerable you could hurt me with a single word, now I know you won't
I'm so fragile you can easily break me with just one look, now I know you don't
With my back against this wall of anguish, I could not really be
Now I've finally found the courage, it was all the time inside of me

You can hide behind your walls, but your heart will follow
When you think you've found shelter, your soul is follow
When you're convinced that you can handle all the pain
That's when you realize it's only a game
The game of running and hiding, of seeking not finding
And it's no fun game at all
The game of perilous pretending, useless defending
You're smashed against your very own wall
And that's what really hurts

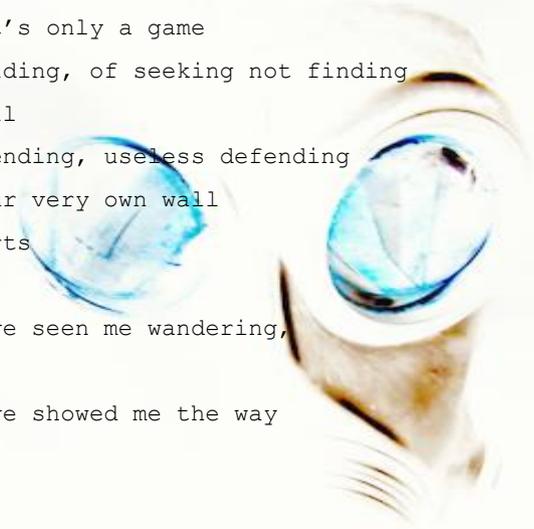

Instead of curtain covered windows you let me see through, now you can see through me
Instead of holding anything back you give me all that is in you now I give you the real me
With my back against this wall of anguish, thought I felt so safe inside
Now I've finally found the courage, exchange my darkness for your light

You can hide behind your walls, but your heart will follow
When you think you've found shelter, your soul is hollow
When you're convinced that you can handle all the pain
That's when you realize it's only a game
The game of running and hiding, of seeking not finding
And it's no fun game at all
The game of perilous pretending, useless defending
You're smashed against your very own wall
And that's what really hurts

Someone out there must have seen me wandering, lost and all alone
Someone out there must have showed me the way an invisible road home

With my heart and body I wanna shout it out loud, while I indulge your tender touch
Now the last wall's pulled down I can tell you, tell you that I love you so much

No longer hide behind my walls, it's my heart I will follow
Cause I feel I've found shelter, my soul no longer hollow
And I have all the strength to handle all of love's pain
Cause now I realize that's the real game
The game of loving is feeling, is hurting is healing
And it's the game I accept
The game of loving is needing, is giving is leading
And it's the game I accept
And that's what really sets my soul at ease

Like circles

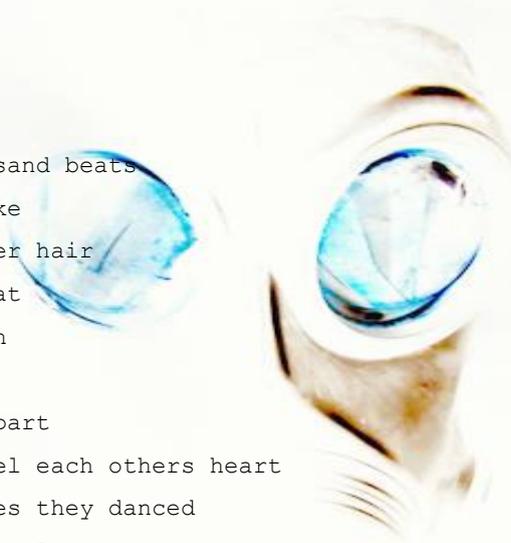

Lyrics: Astrid Rhemrev / Music & All instruments: Hans Geurts / Lead vocals: Joycez

When Nickie met Steve she couldn't believe
Her eyes stopped blinking and her heart skipped thousand beats
On the back seat of his bike
Wind was blowing through her hair
And she felt the summer heat as they'd ride to the beach

And they would never ever part
Cause they would always feel each others heart
Around and around in circles they danced
Like circles forever in a soulmate trance

Used to skip from class
Laying down in the grass
Rainy clouds would disappear
As they shared some bottles of beer
And they had the solution
To the world wide pollution
Any wish would come true
The sky was never so blue

And they would never ever part
Cause they would always feel each others heart
Around and around in circles they danced
Like circles forever in a soulmate trance

GENIUS IN SEARCH OF S

All those late afternoons
They spent in his room
While listening to the song
The fuse went on and on Sometimes she had to weep
For this love so deep
Sometimes this bliss felt so unreal
She was so afraid to feel

But they would never ever part
Cause they would always feel each others heart
Around and around in circles they danced
Like circles forever in a soulmate trance

Black suited him well
But he had a bad smell
And as he came nearby
NICKIE started to cry
He claimed him that day
And he took him away ...
But she knows

They will never ever part
Cause she will always feel his heart
Around and around in circles they will dance
Like circles forever in a soulmate trance
Around and around in circles they will dance
Like circles forever in a soulmate trance

How can I stay

Lyrics: Astrid Rhemrev / Music: Hans Geurts / Lead vocals: Joycez

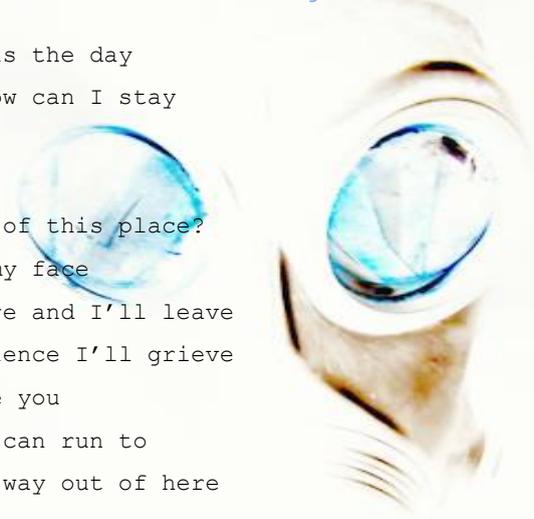

Instruments: Hans Geurts / Additional and lead guitars: Dani Rogosic

Dark is the night and so is the day
Can't see the road, but how can I stay
Tell me, how can I stay

Is it too late to get out of this place?
Look in my eyes, look at my face
Tell me I don't belong here and I'll leave
In silence I'll go, in silence I'll grieve
Standing naked here before you
I know there's no where I can run to How I wish I could find a way out of here

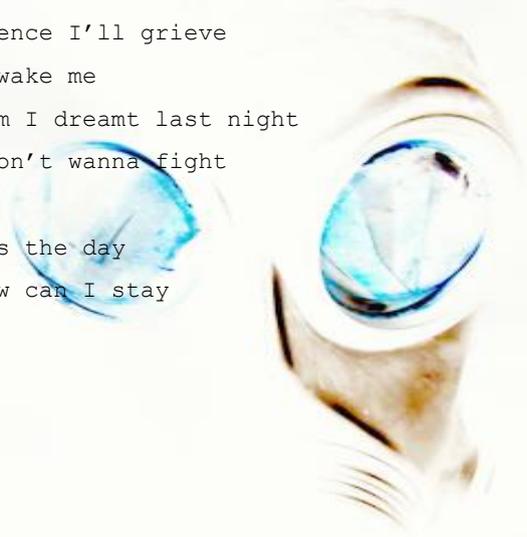

Dark is the night and so is the day
Can't see the road, but how can I stay
Tell me, how can I stay

Who let me in to play this game
God or the devil or do I have myself to blame
My soul is screaming cause this is not right
My eyes search the sky for a star shining bright
Sleep come easy, tomorrow wake me
Out of this beautiful dream I dreamt last night
Cause this is a battle I don't wanna fight

Is it too late to get out of this place?
Look in my eyes, look at my face
Tell me I don't belong here and I'll leave
In silence I'll go, in silence I'll grieve
Sleep come easy, tomorrow wake me
Out of this beautiful dream I dreamt last night
Cause this is a battle I don't wanna fight

Dark is the night and so is the day
Can't see the road, but how can I stay
Tell me, how can I stay

Heaven or hell

Lyrics: Astrid Rhemrev / Music: Hans Geurts / Lead vocals: Joycez

Instruments: Hans Geurts / Additional and lead guitars: Dani Rogosic

Walking up hill a tiny pebble makes me stumble
The more I fall down the more I feel humble
By the time I reach the bottom of this big black hole
My body is aching and so is my soul

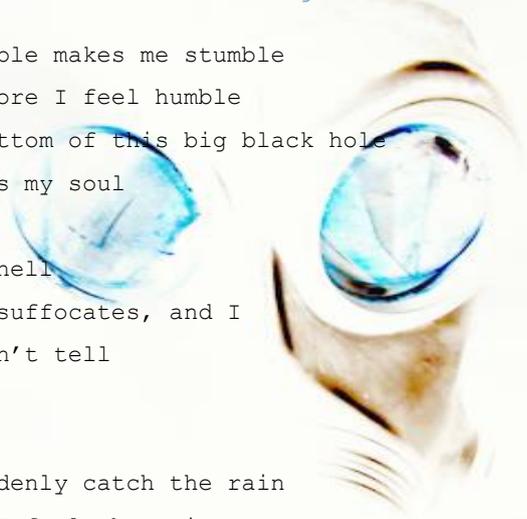

And it's always heaven or hell
The world in between just suffocates, and I Can't breath can't move can't tell
Why I hurt myself

Reach for the sun then suddenly catch the rain
Afraid of hurt that's why I feel the pain
No shelter from a storm that follows where I go
Staring at the ground as my self esteem drops low

And it's always heaven or hell ...

Just one blink of an eye and I'm on the wrong track
Instead of going home I find myself going back
Pick up the ballast I left behind on the way
And I'm back again, where I was yesterday

And it's always heaven or hell ...

Picture in the mirror

Lyrics: Astrid Rhemrev / Music & All instruments: Hans Geurts / Lead vocals: Joycez

Picture in the mirror, don't ever go away
This moment is our infinite guide
Picture in the mirror, so show us the way
To our love in an endless flight

Sparkling lights, soul full of joy
Feeling half a man, half a boy
Happy thoughts, a dream come true
My heart is beating, just by looking at you
Expressing feelings of love and affection
The world around has slowly vanished
This moment brings all the satisfaction
To thoughts and dreams, for a long time cherished

Picture in the mirror, don't ever go away
This moment is our infinite guide
Picture in the mirror, so show us the way
To our love in an endless flight

The mirror is the camera, precisely imaging the scene
In the glass there's a picture never to disappear
Looking together, feeling the same way
Want to make a copy, as a remembrance of a beautiful day

The picture shows a story, never to be told
I'll just remember this moment until I'm old
Whenever there will be any doubt
I want to show it and cry it out loud

Mirror, mirror on the wall, tell us what you see
Is it perfect and is it real?
Beacon of love, an indelible picture
Join our lives, lasting for ever

Picture in the mirror, don't ever go away
This moment is our infinite guide
Picture in the mirror, so show us the way
To our love in an endless flight

Picture in the mirror, don't ever go away

Picture in the mirror Part 2

Lyrics: Astrid Rhemrev / Music & All instruments: Hans Geurts / Lead vocals: Joycez

Never been touched so tender
Never been touched so deep
This picture tells the story
I always want to keep
If I could see through your eyes
Then maybe I would realize
You see the same as I do
There is no clue

Sometimes I feel so uncomfortable
Right now I feel so vulnerable
I wonder is this picture real
How can this be, how can you feel
If I could see through your eyes
Then maybe I would realize
You see the same as I do
There is no clue

This picture hanging on my memory's wall
So beautiful and precious, I'll recall
Precise as never ever before
The mirror showed exactly what I was looking for The lights were dim but I saw clear
All of my inside and that's what I fear

No doubt in my heart, no doubt in my mind
But when I seem cold and not so kind
No doubt in my heart, no doubt in my mind
Sometimes I may seem not so kind

All I ever packed, you unseal
All I've been hiding all of my life, you reveal

If I don't speak out loud and you need to hear Look at this picture, you will find me near
It shows everything that is in me
Here in this frame with you is where I want to be I'm giving you my everything but can this last
Today might be tomorrow's past

No doubt in my heart, no doubt in my mind
But when I seem cold and not so kind
It's just that I'm afraid to break, it's me myself that's here at stake
No doubt in my heart, no doubt in my mind

All I ever packed, you unseal
All I've been hiding all of my life, you reveal

I want it, I love it, never regret our first kiss
And it may hurt sometimes, this picture's a bliss
I want it, I love it, never regret our first kiss
And it may hurt sometimes, this picture's a bliss

Emptiness

Lyrics: Astrid Rhemrev / Music: Hans Geurts / Lead vocals: Joycez

Instruments: Hans Geurts / Additional and lead guitars: Dani Rogosic

You can't see it
But you sure can feel it
Invisible space all around
Your feet no longer touch the ground

Emptiness

Emptiness

There's no beginning
And you sure can't see the border
Endless space all around
You can only hear the silent sound

Emptiness, you can't fight it
Emptiness, no longer hide it

Emptiness is a big black hole
Emptiness is creeping in
Creeping its way into your soul
You can only give in
And it grabs me, everywhere I turn it grabs me
And it stabs me, everywhere I turn it stabs me

I don't want it
No I really never wanted it
Imprisoning space everywhere
No one sees no one cares

I can't fight it
I sure try but I can't fight it
Invisible space inaudible sound
It's everywhere it's all around

Emptiness, you can't fight it
Emptiness, no longer hide it

Emptiness is a big black hole
Emptiness is creeping in
Creeping its way into your soul
You can only give in
And I scream, every time I turn I scream
And I cry, every time I turn I cry without a tear

Emptiness - is all around
Emptiness - silent sound

Weeds on the wall

Lyrics: Astrid Rhemrev / Music: Hans Geurts / Lead vocals: Joycez

Instruments: Hans Geurts / Additional and lead guitars: Dani Rogosic

The mirror watches the changes as you put on the courage
Long lash mascara and blueberry lipstick will get you through the day
Take a last look at the one that looks so much like you
The perfect match powder blends the lines and hides the truth
You thought your pain would be frozen within How could you know he would light up a fire..

Weeds on the wall and the wall is so high
Wings like the birds wish you could fly
Climb on the wind and over the wall ...
you're too small

Everyone thinks you look so cool you're oh so strong they look up to you
Some may even think you're like a rock, but they don't see the trick you do
In the morning you watch the rising sun while putting on your dress
The weather is beautiful today but in your heart it's a mess
You thought your pain would be safe in the suitcase
How could you know he has a matching key ...

Weeds on the wall and the wall is so high
Wings like the birds wish you could fly
Climb on the wind and over the wall ...
you're too small

If you think you're too small
You build up your own wall
If you don't talk or don't call
You will gain nothing at all
If you think you're too small

All the world's clothing and cosmetics will fail in the end the mirror will crack and your fantasy's gone Don't look for answers I've already send don't doubt my intentions, for me you're the one

Maybe too much love, afraid of what's coming next,
I just have no more sayings or printed text
You have to make up your mind let me in or leave me behind

You'll have to jump when you are small
You'll have to fight if you want to tear down this wall
You'll have to share your feelings and thoughts
You'll have to smash the mirror for the love of all

Weeds on the wall and the wall is so high
Wings like the birds wish you could fly
Climb on the wind and over the wall ...
you're too small

Where is the light

Lyrics: Astrid Rhemrev / Music: Hans Geurts / Lead vocals: Joycez

Instruments: Hans Geurts / Additional and lead guitars: Dani Rogosic

Run to the attic make yourself small
Hear the cold words echo in the hall
Five more steps before she opens the door
Won't feel today's slaps, skin's already sore

Where is the light in this lonely dark place
Is there someone out there to wash the tears from your face
Where is the light in this lonely dark place
Is there someone out there to wash the tears from your face

The little boy's silence, she hears the alarm
Must be his safe house, comforting and warm
Go silent down the stairs, sit next to his bed
Hush now little baby, tomorrow lies ahead

Where is the light in this lonely dark place
Is there someone out there to wash the tears from your face
Where is the light in this lonely dark place
Is there someone out there to wash the tears from your face

Never looks up, he's frozen to his chair
The little black men, they are everywhere
He is hopelessly fighting them day after day
From his mouth only whispers, idle pray

Where is the light in this lonely dark place
Is there someone out there to wash the tears from your face
Where is the light in this lonely dark place
Is there someone out there to wash the tears from your face

And the twister sister, I'll tell you about her Look the other way as the cries get louder
Take care of yourself, get scratchless out of here
But the emptiness inside will never disappear

Where is the light in this lonely dark place
Is there someone out there to wash the tears from your face
Where is the light in this lonely dark place
Is there someone out there to wash the tears from your face
